

Call for Proposals

Teaching Development Projects Spring 2018

Call for proposals for Teaching Development Grant (TDG) projects is now open. The Center for Education Innovation (CEI) would like to invite faculty and teaching staff to propose projects to explore innovative ways of teaching and apply pedagogies that are aligned with the University's teaching and learning initiatives.

Projects focusing on the following areas are highly encouraged:

- Incorporating experiential learning in academic courses
- Promoting active learning in the classroom
- Exploring innovative assessment in higher education
- Adopting original and innovative teaching ideas for content enhancement

Funding Information

- All TDG projects are funded by University Grants Committee (UGC) and managed by CEI.
- The projects are reviewed and monitored by the TDG Project Committee chaired by the Associate Provost for Teaching and Learning with representatives from the four Schools.
- The funding limit for individual project is up to HK$200,000.
- Clear justification must be provided for the amount requested. Refer to the Application Guidelines for details of the use of funding.

Eligibility for Application

- All full-time faculty/teaching staff of the University with responsibilities related to teaching and learning.

Proposal Timeline

Application Details

Application Guidelines

Application Submission

Enquiries

Dr Beatrice Chu (x8940),
CEI;

Miss Giovanna Tang (x2027),
CEI

Details on Website

Press to follow us on Facebook page; Or subscribe to our RSS feed.

